Political Outlook More Pleasing to Wall Street.

BANK STATEMENT IS FEARED

Heavy Drain of Cash Will Tend to Make It Unfavorable, Complicating the Situation-Pennsylvania's Probable Future Watched with Interest. Hard Coal Roads to Follow Leader.

New York, Nov. 2.-Short covering in the forenoon, profit-taking toward the close-these were the features of to-day's market. The short covering was caused by the more hopeful political outlook, the subsequent profit-taking by the fact that here is still something of a political sitration left. Those who see good profits in the long side between now and November 6 are not likely to protect themselves. With the high interest rates traders do not care to carry stocks over election if they think the result has already been pretty well Gaiveston 33,274,752 54.4 discounted. The heavy loss of cash susained by the banks, indicating an unfavorable bank statement, was another reason why many holders of stocks were not disposed to hold on very long.

A broker who has a reputation for his ability to size up the importance of matters political expressed himself as fol ows regarding the situation in this State: "Roosevelt and Root have save the country; Croker has saved the city."

or of the increase in dividend announced a couple of weeks ago has not brought any adequate response in the market.

There were rumors that the Standard Oil in this and other interests having satisfied themselves about the election outlook had sent their own heavy conributions into the Republican camributions into the Republican campaign; but all these were of the irresponsible kind which generally follow a martet movement of note, and in this instance they were as freely applied to Brooklyn Rapid Transit as to Amalas Brooklyn Rapid Transit as to Amalgamated Copper, because of the activity of certain brokers in both stocks.

Rumor said the rise in the Hill stocks was based on the prospect of rights in he near tuture. It was not. The reason or it was found in the annual report of Boston and Alba Great Northern, so far as the stock of that road was concerned, for the more the statement was studied, the more evident it became that Mr. Hill has created an extraordinary machine for the complete and efficient transportation of American Arg. Chemical pfd. plete and efficient transportation of American Sugar.

Steel Report Favorable.

In view of the disappointment which traders expressed over the steel statement, the following extract from the November letter of a well-known house is invented. ember letter of a well-known house is in- Atlantic ...
